More Traffic to Your Website: DIY SEO (Search Engine Optimization) Register

Wednesday, April 06, 2016 4:30 PM to 7:00 PM

Topic: Marketing and Sales

Everyone wants more traffic to their website, but how can you generate the traffic you want? What you have to start with is setting up your site correctly so that search engines know who they should be sending to you. In this training you will learn how to score your site to see what needs to be fixed. We will show you the best tools available for diagnosis, keyword and competitive research that will help you come out on top. You will learn the exact page and site structure that Google is looking for on your site and how to set it up. You will leave with a clear blueprint of what you need to do to get and keep your site on top of search results. This is a working workshop. That means you need to bring your laptop so you can actually do some work on your site in the class. We will have laptops available for your use free of charge if you do not have your own laptop for class. Score your site, learn the key tools for you and your competition and all about keywords. Create the ideal buyer profile, and the perfect structure for an easy-to-find page and website.
