Crestone Peak Resources will be on the Pratt location for about three hours on Thursday, Jan. 19, to conduct routine maintenance on the single well at that site. This activity will include pressure testing the well. Neighbors can expect to see a couple pickup trucks and a trailer with equipment. All work will be done during the day.

Crestone has not set a date to begin activity at the Pratt location. As soon as a timeline has been finalized, Crestone will begin outreach to the community regarding their plans.
